Subject: Material Declaration According to IMO MEPC:269(68):2015, Regulation (EU) 1257/2013 and Hong Kong International Convention, 2009

To whom it may concern,

In light of regulations that were released in the past few years, all ships are required to keep onboard an Inventory of Hazardous Materials (IHM). The purpose of the IHM is to provide information on the actual hazardous materials present on board the ship for health and safety reasons, and prevent environmental pollution at ship recycling facilities. This information will be used by ship recycling facilities to decide how to manage the types and amounts of materials identified in the IHM.

Please refer to the following reference regulations for further information on the IHM:

- IMO MEPC 269(68): 2015 - Guidelines for the Development of the Inventory of Hazardous Materials
- Regulation (EU) 1257/2013 of the European Parliament and the Council on ship recycling (EU SRR), EMSA - Guidance on the Inventory of Hazardous Materials, IHM Development and Maintenance in the context of the EU Ship Recycling Regulation
- Hong Kong International Convention for the Safe and Environmentally Sound Recycling of Ships, 2009 (HKC), (SR/CONF/45)

In light of the aforementioned regulations, Sinopec Lubricant Co., Ltd. ("SINOPEC") declares here, to the best of its knowledge, information and belief, that all its marine lubricant products conform to the applicable regulations, and do not contain any of the materials of concern. Please find attached SINOPEC's material declaration list for your reference.

Yours sincerely,
SINOPEC LUBRICANT CO., LTD.
